Where Can York County Residents Recycle Electronics?

- If you have unwanted electronics that are in good working order, please consider donating them. An internet search of “where to donate (item) in York, PA” is an easy way to find local options for donating usable items.
- The York County Electronics Recycling Programs listed below accept electronics to be recycled for FREE from York County residents only. Please bring help with you to unload heavy electronic items if needed. The program locations are:

York County Solid Waste Authority: Conducted Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon at the York County Resource Recovery Center (YCRRC) located at 2651 Blackbridge Road in York. There is no tipping fee for loads consisting solely of electronics. If delivering other wastes in addition to electronics during the same visit, the entire load will be subject to the YCRRC tipping fee. For more information regarding the YCRRC tipping fee, click here.

When electronics are delivered to our electronics recycling site, an outside electronics contractor takes the items and disassembles them to harvest valuable and useable parts. Any parts remaining that can't be recycled or reused are properly managed by the contractor in accordance with state regulations.
