February is a great month for book lovers! We've got lots to celebrate as we move further into 2024!

Volunteers Needed! The Library has an immediate need for volunteers to assist at the circulation desk, especially on evenings and Saturdays. Clearances required and training provided. Contact the library for details.

Featured Artist. Linzi Raudabaugh is the featured artist for January and February. She creates minimalist and abstract art utilizing a hyper-realistic approach. Inspired by natural beauty and rhythm, Linzi has created art in all mediums: pencil, acrylic, oil, watercolor, mixed media.

Dillsburg Book Discussion Group. We are starting a book group! Join us for our first meeting on February 8, at 6:30pm. We will be discussing And the Mountains Echoed by Khaled Hosseini.

Tax Forms. The library will again have some federal tax forms. We will have the 1040, the 1040-SR, and the instruction book. If you need other forms, we can print those at the usual rate of 20 cents per one black and white page.

Science Buddies Engineering Challenge. On Monday, February 26, from 6:00 PM to 7:30 PM, we're participating in the worldwide Science Buddies Engineering Challenge! Join Sharon Roche from the Quarryville Library Center to learn about the challenge—rubber band cars! We will provide the materials and kids can choose whether to build for fun or to enter into the competition. For more information on the Challenge, visit <https://www.sciencebuddies.org/engineering-challenge>. Grades 3-12. Please RSVP online at the YCL events calendar.

Annual Appeal. If you are interested in making a tax deductible gift to the library for our annual appeal, you can pick up a form at the circulation desk. All gifts stay local and support the mission of the Dillsburg Library.
